

Ravi Kiran Vernekar

Vice President and Head of Sales

Quick facts:

- One of the early employees of Global Edge
- Delivering fine solutions to the customers
- Holds Master's degree in Business Administration

Constantly brewing ideas on how to enable organizations to be successful, Ravi Kiran Vernekar, Vice President and Head of Sales at GlobalEdge, has made it his business to understand and empower customers across the globe. One of the sharpest minds in the industry today, Ravi's knack for customer delight has helped leading organizations across domains realize their dreams of building successful businesses. Standing tall and strong, Ravi is one of the few who recognized the need for fast and flexible engineering solutions for global technology companies at an early stage and leads a group of young and experienced minds to deliver the right solutions to our customers.

Armed with a deep operating experience and understanding of complex business environments, Ravi has made it his mission to take a technology-driven approach to offer businesses a unique set of product engineering solutions that address their lifeline – cash flow.